GLENDALE WINS FROM VISITORS

Valley League Opens Series Here With Big Welcome.

GOOD GAME PLAYED

Shorty Harrison Proves Star of the Game for This City

In the most exciting and interesting game ever played on the home field, Glendale won the first game of the San Fernando Valley league over Owensmouth by the score of 11 to 9 before a record crowd.

The hero of the game was George "Shorty" Harrison, the star left fielder of the home team. In the last of the ninth inning with one run behind, two men on bases, and two out, "Shorty" drove a hard hit ball through rightfield for a home run, which made many of the fans lose their hats and voices. "Shorty" also made a lusty 2-base hit in the second inning.

Manager Walt Heidler started on the mound for the locals, but due to very hard work all week setting the grounds in shape and getting everything ready to make the opening game a success, which it surely was, he was not in shape to hurl in his usual manner, and was relieved in the seventh inning by "Slim" Harris. "Slim" finished the game in great fashion, and with his offerings the visitors could do nothing. Earl "Lefty" Harrison again comes in for a great amount of praise for his wonderful errorless playing at first base. He was also star at bat, making three hits out of four times up. Pepper, Harris and Astota each clouted out three hits. C. Brown played first base for the visitors and put up a great game, handling many hard chances accurately.

As a whole it was a great game and well pleased the large crowd.

Manager Walt Heidler wishes to thank each and every one of the large crowd of fans present for their liberal support, which made the opening game a real success, and gives him and his team a great amount of needed encouragement to go ahead with the hard schedule planned for the Valley league. He also expects every game in the league to be just as good as this one, as each team comprising the league is putting forth every effort to cop first place for the many wonderful trophies that are offered it. The box score follows:

OPHEUS CLUB STAGES FINE CONCERT

Nearly One Thousand Attend the Kiwanis Club Initial Number.

Nearly a thousand music lovers of Glendale gathered at the Tuesday Afternoon Club auditorium Saturday night to hear the concert given by the Orpheus Club of Los Angeles, the Orpheus Four and Raymond McFeevers, pianist, who appeared under the auspices of the Glendale Kiwanis Club.

Those who listened for two hours to the many beautiful selections declared that the program rendered was without doubt the finest of its kind ever heard in Glendale. Every number was a jewel. The ensemble work of the club could hardly have been improved upon. It was superb. This club has a reputation of being one of the finest musical organizations in the state, and in its work Saturday night it surpassed the expectations of even those who had heard the club in past concerts.

The Orpheus Four, composed of Messrs. Glass, Campbell, Adams and Dudley, received the "hand" of the evening. By its first number this quartet of vocal artists won over every one in the auditorium, and by each succeeding selection and encores, a number of which it graciously responded to, the boys proceeded to completely captivate their hearers.

Without doubt no four ever appearing in Glendale did such artistic work as did the Orpheus Four Saturday.

Raymond McFeevers at the piano was a true delight to those who packed the auditorium. His work was of extremely high character. He rendered Rhapsody No. 12, and responded to an encore.

The work of William E. Ooley and R. T. Cheatham, soloists, was well done. Their selections were very favorably received.

The following program was rendered:

"Bedouin Love Song" . . . Arthur Foote
"Autumn Lament" . . . The Club
"Katy Did" . . . C. B. Hawley
"Ah, Moon of My Delight" . . . (From "In a Persian Garden") Sung by William E. Ooley
"The Rosary" . . . Ethelbert Nevin
"Cato's Advice" . . . Bruno Huhn
"Selections by The Orpheus Four" (Messrs. Glass, Campbell, Adams and Dudley and the Club)
"Do Copan Moon" . . . Harry Rose Shelly
"Rhapsody No. 12" . . . Liszt
"In the Night" . . . Ludwig Liebe
"On the Road to Mandeville" . . . Oley Speaks
"The Club and R. T. Cheatham, "The Brownies" . . . Franco Leon
"Selections by The Orpheus Four and the Club"
"Soldiers' Chorus" . . . Gounod
"The Club"

An inquest over the body will be held at the Scovern parlors at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Mr. Butler, who was a building contractor, and had lived in this section for seventeen years, is survived by a widow, Myra O. Butler, and a son, Leo Butler, who resides on Sonora avenue. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

Believes Chinese Want Restrictions on Opium

[By Associated Press] PEKING, March 12.—The suggestion by Sir Francis Aglen, head of the Chinese customs administration, that China legalize the opium traffic in order to control it, has elicited a protest by Sir John Jordan, for many years British minister in Peking, who regards such a proposal as "retrograde." His comment, cabled from London, expresses the belief that Chinese public opinion would be strong enough to resist a relapse which would stigmatize the Chinese for all time as an opium-ridden race.

Sir John's criticism impelled Sir Francis to further expound his views, authorizing publication of the statement that, just as after 50 years of opium prohibition and repression, backed by the full weight of imperial authority, China in 1853 was obliged to take the retrograde step of legalizing the opium traffic, so, he believes, China again will be forced by rapidly increasing demoralization growing out of the vast illicit trade, to retrace her steps. He added that he did not advocate legalization for purposes of raising revenue, but as the only practicable means of controlling and finally suppressing the trade.

The Peking directors of the International Anti-Opium association called a special meeting to consider Sir Francis' suggestion. The result was adoption of a resolution stating that the association is opposed to legalization.

$350,000 HOTEL TO BE UNDER WAY WITHIN 60 DAYS ON NO. BRAND

Location Revealed After Purchase of Site Through Charles B. Guthrie; Corner of Burchett Street and to be Four or Five Stories High

O. A. BROWN & COMPANY BUY PROPERTY

Structure to Be Known As the Brown Palace Apartment Hotel, to Be Financed, Owned and Operated by Los Angeles Company

Within 60 days ground will be broken on a North Brand boulevard corner for a hotel building which, with the ground and furnishings, will represent an investment of $350,000. The location of the new hotel was revealed today, after the property had been secured through Charles B. Guthrie. It will be constructed at the northwest corner of Burchett and North Brand boulevard.

The deal for the property on which this hotel is to be constructed was closed today by O. A. Brown & Co., with offices in the Security building in Los Angeles, and the drawing of plans for the new structure is already under way. It will be either a Class B or Class C structure.

In this hotel there will be from 125 to 150 rooms, with a spacious and beautiful lobby on the first floor. There will be fifty single rooms with bath, fifty single and double apartments, which will be complete in every detail.

The building will be of brick and of Spanish type architecture, with tile roof. It will be between four and six stories, and will have steam heat, running ice water, automatic refrigeration.

In the splendid auditorium placed at the disposal of the school it should be possible to accommodate all the students and the general public which always wants to participate in this sensational event, there will probably be few seats to spare.

N. B. BUTLER IS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Prominent Contractor Is Struck by S. P. Train at Sonora Avenue

N. B. Butler, 55 years old, of Sonora avenue, was killed Saturday night when the coupe in which he was riding was struck at Sonora near San Fernando road by a Southern Pacific train. Mr. Butler died while he was being taken to the hospital.

As Mr. Butler neared the crossing the train, evidently not seeing the train approaching, attempted to cross. The coupe was demolished and Mr. Butler was with difficulty extricated from the wreckage. He died without regaining consciousness.

The call for the ambulance was turned in by Motor Officer Booth of Glendale. He called the Kiefer & Eyerick company and that firm sent an ambulance. The body was later removed to the L. G. Scovern company's parlors.

The American Association will open Thursday.

The schedules for the opening major league games follow:

National League
New York at Boston
Philadelphia at Brooklyn
St. Louis at Cincinnati
Pittsburgh at Chicago

American League
Boston at New York
Washington at Philadelphia
Detroit at St. Louis
Chicago at Cleveland

The national pastime returns to the spotlight with few of its principal stars missing and some of its most scintillating performers of past days back in the orbits.

Christy Mathewson and Frank Chance, they are names that once sent the fans a thrill. And they are back in the national sport again and in the same city. Mathewson is at the bat with Boston Nationals and Chance as manager of the Boston Americans.

Besides the regular stars, Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson and the others of the galaxy of the first rank, many new faces will be seen in this year's lineup.

Sir John's criticism impelled Sir Francis to further expound his views, authorizing publication of the statement that, just as after 50 years of opium prohibition and repression, backed by the full weight of imperial authority, China in 1853 was obliged to take the retrograde step of legalizing the opium traffic, so, he believes, China again will be forced by rapidly increasing demoralization growing out of the vast illicit trade, to retrace her steps. He added that he did not advocate legalization for purposes of raising revenue, but as the only practicable means of controlling and finally suppressing the trade.

The Peking directors of the International Anti-Opium association called a special meeting to consider Sir Francis' suggestion. The result was adoption of a resolution stating that the association is opposed to legalization.

300 LITTLE ONES ATTEND K. OF C. PARTY

'FLAME OF LIFE' OPENS TUESDAY AT T. D. & L.

"Beautiful and Damned"
Closes Run This Evening

The struggle of human souls toward betterment of social conditions and mental standards has been the theme of many great pictures, but in the Hobart Henley Universal-Jewel special, "The Flame of Life," coming to the T. D. & L. Theatre on Tuesday, the able voice, June Walsh, a six year old artist contributed song and dance numbers and recitations. The children are all pupils of the Egan school.

After the program the children enjoyed a treat of Eskimo pies and the distribution of toy balloons. For the benefit of the children who were unable to attend Saturday it is planned to give a similar party in about 30 days. Grand Knight Harry Girard, assisted by Fred Albright, had charge of arrangements.

"The Flame of Life" was adapted from one of Frances Hodgson Burnett's most widely read books and the story is considered equal to "Little Lord Fauntleroy" in coloring and atmosphere, and far superior to it in dramatic pitch. Elliott Clawson prepared it for screening.

Priscilla Dean has the most gripping role of her career in the new offering. As a woman of the slow-witted peasantry, unable to read or write, and possessing one work dress and one good dress she will be seen in a characterization that is certainly unique.

The artistry of Miss Dean was never better exemplified. She reaches emotional and dramatic heights that are remarkable even for this talented actress. Her performance holds one spellbound. The entire supporting cast is excellent and was chosen with great care to insure perfect balance.

A smashing thrill in the form of a great mine catastrophe in which great tunnels and shafts actually were blown up for the picture, gives a twist to the climax, surprising and gripping.

Robert Ellis, Wallace Beery, Beatrice Burnham, Kathryn McGuire, Fred Kohler, Emmett King, Nancy Caswell, Frankie Lee, Richard Daniels and others support Miss Dean. Hobart Henley directed.

F. Scott Fitzgerald's super-flapper in "The Beautiful and Damned" has been transferred to the screen by the Warner Brothers with the aid of Marie Prevost, who plays the feature role. The picture, which closes tonight at the T. D. & L. Theatre reveals the gay night life of New York's smart set, its cafes and its hotels.

GERMAN ELECTRIC COMPANY COMBINES WITH JAPANESE
(By Associated Press)

TOKIO, April 16.—The great American electric companies which, through their Japanese affiliated companies, have up to the present done the bulk of the business in Japan, are to have further competition.

The German firm of Elektrons Schukert has combined with the Furukawa Electric Industrial company and a larger factory is to be built near Yokohama, according to the local press. The Japanese company will supply the capital and the German one will furnish experts and patent rights.

GLENDALE BUILDING LOAN FINDS PRESS GETS ATTENTION

The Glendale Building and Loan Association is a strong believer in the pulling power of the Glendale Daily Press as an advertising medium.

A few days ago an advertisement was carefully prepared by this association which had much food for thought couched in its make-up. It was given a good position in the Glendale Daily Press. Here's what W. B. Howard, president of the Glendale Building and Loan Association, said: "I must say I was surprised to see that so many people really read your paper and make inquiry when something appears in it that appeals to them. In our case we had many people come in and say they had read the advertisement and ask for further information. We are now thoroughly convinced your paper delivers the goods when it comes to getting results."

The Fathers' auxiliary of the Colorado Street School Parent-Teacher association was organized at the home of Dr. Frank N. Arnold on Lomita avenue. The following officers were elected:

Attorney Bert P. Woodard, chairman executive board; L. C. Leeds, secretary executive board; Doctor Frank N. Arnold, chairman membership committee; Harry Girard, chairman entertainment committee; Binc J. Smith and C. A. Perry, chairmen of refreshment committee.

An initiation fee of $1 for each father was decided upon. The first meeting of the auxiliary will be held on May 18. The place for the meeting will be announced later.

NEW YORK, April 16.—Speculative expectation of a cent in Mid-Continent crude oil prices prompted further selling of the oil shares in today's relatively dull stock market. NEWS OF EAGLE ROCK

P.T.A. SENDS OUT TWO THOUSAND CIRCULARS

Campaign for Five Hundred Dollar Fund Is Started This Week

This week, 2,000 circular letters, illustrated with a picture of the Central School cafeteria, and requesting the donation of $1 to assist in the payment of the cafeteria debt, and renewal of present equipment, will be sent out to Eagle Rock residents by the Central P.T.A. This is the opening of the big drive for funds that will clear up all existing debt before the city of Los Angeles takes charge of the local work.

The idea was advanced before annexation became a certainty, that the school cafeteria could not be run under the same management after being taken over by the city, but, after conferring with those in charge of this work in Los Angeles, it has been discovered that no changes will result in the cafeteria work.

The P.T.A. hopes to raise $500 through the generous contributions of townspeople, and out of this fund it will not only pay off debts, but will also buy new dishes, and leave a small surplus for beginning operations next year.

MISS SWENSON NOW NEWS CORRESPONDENT

Miss Jennie Swenson, who for nine months was editor of the Eagle Rock Press, has returned to Eagle Rock under a flag of another color. Miss Swenson is now connected with the Glendale News, reporting for the Eagle Rock section.

Miss Robertson Celebrates Birthday

Miss Valberg Robertson, sister-in-law of Mrs. H. L. Robertson of 231 East Park avenue, celebrated her thirteenth birthday Saturday afternoon with a jolly party to which six of her young friends were invited. Games and the usual birthday-party "stunts" featured the afternoon.

Pink predominated in the general color scheme, and the Robertson home was prettily decorated with Cecil Brunner roses. After the games, cake and ice cream were served.

36 SPEEDERS ARE TRIED IN EAGLE ROCK COURT

Thirty-six cases of "speeding" came before the local court on Saturday morning, but less than half of these appeared personally. A number of fines came through the Automobile club, and many persons forfeited bail. Forty-five miles an hour was the highest speed record, and the offender in that case did not appear. Floyd E. Green came in second, with 37½ miles an hour, and appeared to pay a fine of $45.

Robert Baldock, 15 years of age, was called before the court on a charge of reckless driving without an operator's license. Young Baldock was accompanied by his mother and the boy with him at the time he was stopped was crowded other drivers off the boulevard near the bridge. His case was suspended, and Judge H. I. Cruzan cautioned him against repeating the offense, unless he wished to become one of the judge's "Saturday Morning club," or "S. M. V. A." (Saturday morning Violator's association).

C. OF C. DRIVE PLANNED FOR EAGLE ROCK

On Tuesday night the chamber of commerce will hold a meeting in the city hall to organize the membership drive which will be carried on until a big, efficient chamber of commerce is developed in Eagle Rock.

The team of community organizers known as Stevenson and Shoube will be in charge of the drive here. Business firms will be asked to participate in the work, and many are so highly in favor of the enlarged chamber of commerce that they plan to take out several memberships.

Everyone is invited to be present Tuesday night when the opening guns are to be fired in the racing campaign.

NEBRASKA-ILLINOIS DELEGATION FORMING

The Nebraska-Illinois picnic will take place at Pasadena on April 22. W. B. Howard, president of the Glendale Building and Loan Association, is making up a list to attend the big event, and as he had a wide acquaintance in Nebraska, being state auditor, and holding other positions of trust, he will doubtless be a big factor in making the picnic a success.

P.T.A. LAYS PLANS FOR COMMUNITY PLAYGROUND

Conference to Be Held With L. A. Board of Education and Playground Commission

The Federated P.T.A. is taking up the question of a public playground for Eagle Rock children. This plan has occasioned much discussion among the members of the various school organizations, and will now be referred to the Los Angeles board of education and playground commission. A committee from the P.T.A. will meet with these bodies this week, and definite plans will be considered.

Last spring $100 was set aside from the receipts of the Harvest Home festival, to be used either in the construction of a swimming pool, or in playground work. It will be decided at the conference this week just how to expend this money.

The mothers in the valley feel that a playground would be another step forward for the children. They feel that some recreational center is due the children during the summer when they cannot exercise and amuse themselves on the school apparatus. So the Los Angeles educational officials will be asked to consider this district for the construction of a community playground.

'STORK STORIES' GET MERCER'S GOAT

No need to worry about race suicide, according to the statistics presented by J. B. Mercer, motor officer. He complains that the birth-rate in the country seems to be growing with startling rapidity since the Press published a story recently about a Los Angeles man who was "racing with the stork" when picked up on a speeding charge, and received a suspended sentence in the local court.

Nearly half of the "speeders" whom he hauls upon the boulevards have some variation of the "racing with the stork" excuse ready for him now, Mercer says. And some sound pretty convincing, too. He never knows whether to wish the prospective parent good luck and hasten him on his way, or delay him until the charge can be filled out. So Mr. Mercer complains that his work is made more difficult since the little story of an excuse that is new in the Eagle Rock court, has been spread over the surrounding country.

LAST OFFERING IN WING ORANGE GROVE TRACT

Only Eighteen Homesites
in Wonder Acreage
Are Available

The closing out sale of lots in the Wing Orange Grove tract started this morning. A grand final offering by Marvin Smith, sales manager for the tract, is expected to result in the sale of every remaining piece of real estate in the tract before the close of the week.

Since the opening of this tract something like six weeks ago about 90 lots have been sold. These have been purchased by men and women who know values when they see them. They have been snatched up by realty buyers and home seekers who realized how the prices that are being charged for the lots are soaring as a result of the improvements, which are now under way.

The "original" prices that are being asked for these lots are "way down," meaning on the rock bottom. The idea in placing this tract on the market was to put the prices of the lots down so low that they could not help but sell without delay. The hopes and expectations of the owners of the property along this line have been fully realized. Homesites in this tract have sold with wonderful rapidity.

There are only eighteen chances left to secure one or more of these Wing Orange Grove lots at the initial or rock bottom prices. After these are gone those who wish to get in will have to pay the lucky "first buyers" a profit. Six weeks ago this property was a thriving orange grove, owned by a single person. Today nearly 100 new land owners are building or expecting to build their future homes on that property. It is the "number" of property owners that brings increase to real estate. This being true, the Wing Orange Grove lots are sure to advance rapidly. In fact, they have already advanced and many re-sales have been made.

Thirty-three years ago this old landmark of Glendale was a barley field. When young Dr. Wing and his bride came to California from Chicago, they knew at a glance that the property which they later selected was to be the paradise spot of the entire San Fernando Valley, which means Southern California.

The natural beauty of this property cannot be surpassed. It has everything the homeseker wants. It is a quiet, peaceful spot, smiled upon by the mountain's snowy peaks.

Add to this natural beauty the many improvements that have been installed are being made and that are planned for this tract and you have a combination that cannot be surpassed. The improvements that have been planned for this tract are of the highest character.

Nothing has been left undone that would in any way assist in bringing this tract strictly up to the minute.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Wing tract is young, so far as its being sold to homebuilders is concerned, more than dozen homes are now in course of construction.

That should mean something to the man who wants his property to advance in value, for building construction of this character is sure to mean many dollars in the pockets of those who buy at the original prices.

Cheap homes will not be permitted on the Wing Orange Grove tract. The dwellings that are now under construction are costing from $1,000 to $6,000 to build.

Mrs. H. S. Bissell, Mrs. E. N. Net-

restrictions, while not prohibitive, are high enough to assure a good class of structures being erected.

The cleanup sale of the lots in this tract is on. The remaining eighteen homesites cannot last long. Every lot is desirable and within the next week every lot in this tract, now remaining unsold, will have been disposed of.

It is just a question of who will be the lucky buyers.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF BURBANK AND ITS ENVIRONS

MANY DATES ARE SCHEDULED FOR CALENDAR

Concerts, Lectures and Parties to Fill Week

Society folks of Burbank claim that the calendar this week is not as full as usual, but there are several interesting things planned among the diversions for the week. Mrs. A. C. Fillbach and Mrs. C. B. Kahl will entertain at a theatre dinner party Friday evening in Los Angeles. The fifteen members of the M. C. club will be the guests.

The week closed for Mrs. C. I. Lovejoy, 1150 Providencia avenue, with attendance at the annual banquet of her sorority, the Alpha Omega Phi, at the New Mary Louise, next Saturday evening. Classmates of hers at the State University of Nebraska will be present.

Two divisions of the Woman's club will meet, the Needle Work section at the home of Mrs. Ray, Eighth and Orange Grove, and the Current Events section next Saturday.

There are to be three concerts. The first one will be given by the Pasadena Fine Arts club at the Edison building; Mrs. Sparrow will present her junior pupils Friday evening, and Wednesday evening Mrs. Grace Lovejoy will play in the Los Angeles Woman's Symphony Orchestra, in Philharmonic hall. Several Burbank musicians are planning to attend.

Mrs. Roy Campbell will entertain the Sunset Canyon Bridge club at her home on Magnolia avenue, at the time.

The Eastern Star Burbank chapter entertained at one of the most enjoyable socials of the past week, last Friday evening, when they initiated five new members. Mrs. L. Davidson, matron, and A. C. Fillbach, parlor, were in charge.

The initiates were Mr. and Mrs. R. Mitchell, Mrs. Lillian Gould, Myrtle Flo and Mrs. B. J. Dawson. After the initiation delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anders, 112 Elmwood avenue, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wilcutt of Los Angeles, as house guests over the weekend.

L. D. Davidson will return to his home this evening from a weekend visit at Catalina, where he is trying to recover from the effects of the influenza.

GENTLENESS OF CHRIST IS THEME

Rev. Stevenson Preaches of Example of the Master

"God's Gentleness" was the subject of the Sunday morning sermon of Rev. Thomas Stevenson at the Burbank Presbyterian church. For his Bible text he took Matthew 12:19-20, "He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets."

A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory."

"Occasionally," said Rev. Stevenson, "Christ draws the curtain aside and shows his real self, as when He told of teaching the Bible in the synagogue at Nazareth, when He said, 'The Spirit of the Lord is upon me.' Another time is the scene upon the Mount of Transfiguration. Still another intimate view is in the text today.

"The picture is of God's gentleness. The outstanding characteristic is seen in these verses. His kindness and gentleness is shown. It is intended that the Kiwanians during the week will by their own example encourage others to practice courtesy.

"The prophet Isaiah drew this picture of the coming Christ. He shall not strive, or cry aloud." This told of the Christ who preached without haranguing or lifting the voice.

"One going about with a chip on his shoulder is not the picture of Christ. He believed in neither rancor nor cant. He conciliated, but did not coerce. Neither was His voice heard in the street, for He detested this 'street corner' religion.

This does not mean a reflection on the worthy service of the Salvation Army, but the other kind of street corner religion. He went out in the highways and byways, bathing in the sunshine, receiving impressions through his skin.

"Let us take a glance at one of Beethoven's notebooks. The sketches are not easy to read, probably few besides himself could make anything out of the chaos of notes, some on staves, others without any sign of staff to show the pitch. They were written in pencil and have become blurred.

"As a boy and during his entire life he would not break, John the Baptist was like a mighty oak which would not bend before any storm, but there are some Christians who lie in the marshes of selfishness, and these bruised reeds. Some are not shining lights, but are like smoking flax, yet the master suffered long and was kind to these, and the smoking flax He did not quench.

Sketch of Ludwig von Beethoven from the university course of music text books was obtained.

Great genius often works hard and takes great pains. This applies with special force to Beethoven. In this respect he differed from his predecessor, Mozart, to whom musical thoughts seemed to come in finished form, whereas Beethoven worked over his ideas and his themes with the greatest diligence and care. This we learn from his notebooks which have been preserved.

It was his custom to carry one of these books with him at all times and to put on paper every idea which came to him at the instant it entered his mind, without respect to time or place.

As a boy and during his entire life he was passionately studied by expert musicians. Their investigations show how a few strong thoughts, a few measures only, written down at intervals of time, were later united by the master into those powerful themes which he elaborated into great compositions.

After his death these books were most carefully studied by expert musicians. Their investigations show how a few strong thoughts, a few measures only, written down at intervals of time, were later united by the master into those powerful themes which he elaborated into great compositions.

LORD CECIL'S VISIT

Lord Robert Cecil is in this country lecturing on the League of Nations, which he favors. He is quite within his rights in so doing. He is entitled to a respectful hearing, and this he will receive. It matters nothing that Senator Reed denounces the visit as "sheer impudence." It matters even less, that the elements that in the war were pro-German as well as misrepresent his purpose. That the Hearstlings of the press are indignant at the presence of the British is enough to warrant a cordial reception on the part of Americans.

The charge is made that Lord Robert is a propagandist. This is not true in any invidious sense. If the theory he supports is correct, it is as much for the benefit of this nation as of his own. It is a matter for full and free discussion. If the Reeds of the land choose to combat it, it would seem that the weapons of abuse should be laid aside for that of argument.

In his first address in this country Lord Robert said it was essential to world safety "to turn the minds of nations from force as the only remedy." He added, "We have got to get a new spirit among the nations of the world. We have got to teach them that persuasion and public opinion are of far greater value than mere physical compulsion."

All true. There is no flaw in it. Either the powers will learn this lesson or wars go on to slaughter peoples and plant anew the seeds of bitter hates. The spirit actuating the formation of the League of Nations recognized the truth. There was an effort to embody its high ethical value in a working code. Men, however lofty their ideals, are imperfect; they did not succeed. They meant well, but the opposition, appealing to prejudice, charging insincerity, bragging of a patriotic devotion, was too much. The same opposition is manifest in the case of the International Court of Justice sought to be established, the plan favored by President Harding. The real object of both moves was to create an understanding, a community of fellowship, finding its natural climax in an abiding peace.

Because an Englishman speaks in favor of peace he is termed "impudent." If this is the most forceful arraignment the hostile little souls that clamor for isolation are able to bring about, silence is the refuge that their modesty ought to suggest to them.

AN IDEAL BEING REALIZED

On the palisades above the region close to Santa Monica a great enterprise is taking form. There is being built a city ideal as a home. In constant view is a sweep of sea. On one hand, shadowy and purple, yet clear in outline, are majestic and friendly mountains. The chosen area at the back, merges into the foothills. All of it is swept by refreshing breezes. Perhaps there is no other place even in southern California, that for serene beauty, for seclusion close to city advantages, for opportunity to develop into a panorama of charm, could be said to excel this favored spot.

The basis of the scheme is a non-profit educational institution sponsored by the M. E. church. The design is to make it a center similar in character and effect to such institutions as flourish at Ocean Grove, Lake Chautauqua, or Winona Lake. Over all these noted places it would have a decided advantage in being subject the year around to the finest climatic conditions. It would become the seat of many conventions of the most desirable class, directed to promotion of some form of good to humanity. It would be to all intent, a great university. It would draw a population of the best class of citizens.

The restrictions are such as to keep the place purely residential. No land is being sold. Speculation is not encouraged. Lots or tracts are leased for long terms, subject to renewal. Promotion has been through the sale of bonds, handled by the most reliable financial concerns. The bonds have all, or nearly all, been sold. The plan emerged from the dream stage long ago. Improvements must be made according to a fixed and harmonious scale. For example, along winding drives to the beach, it will be permitted to erect homes of one or not more than two stories, but there is the proviso that upon the roof of each shall be maintained a garden. Thus the passer-by will not at any stage of the trip be looking down upon bare shingles or tiles. This is a mere detail showing how carefully the originators of the project have thought out a complete scheme, both of usefulness and artistry.

The Pacific Palisades association, in working out this enterprise, is working a benefit on the whole community. The center it is establishing is certain to become famed, to draw educators and students, and to create an atmosphere of culture much to be desired as a social asset.

An automobile who ran over and killed two persons Easter Sunday narrowly escaped being lynched by the crowd. Some day a driver of this type will fail to escape. The deaths he caused were part of a total of seven for the day for this vicinity, with five so injured that fatal results were expected to follow. There must be a limit to the capacity of any community to endure the exhibition of homicidal mania.

UNMASKED IN CHURCH

A dispatch from Pittsburgh, but making no mention of the state, says that sixteen "klansmen" in full regalia, with masks, marched into church there while service was in progress. They were courteously asked either to remove the masks or to retire. Showing a reluctance to do either, they were urged, and the necessary force deprived a few of them of their facial disguise. If they were observed to blush at this exposure, no record was made of the fact.

That members of a secret band, bound by oaths that must be in conflict with the constitution; professing high purpose, but given to cowardly violence, could think to be received in church, but emphasizes the strangeness of their obsession. The church, open to the law-abiding without regard to race, and not even shut against creed, could not consistently harbor a delegation of the lawless, concealed because ashamed, or so as to hide some evil purpose.

In various places the k. k. has manifested its disregard of all the decencies. It has assaulted brutal men and women accused, perhaps falsely, of public or private offense. Even if guilty, the accused belonged under the jurisdiction of regular authorities. When the k. k. assumed jurisdiction they themselves became subject to arrest and penalty.

What this country does not need is mob rule. Any organization that thinks to operate safely as a mob because of the protection afforded by a flimsy uniform, and a voodoo brand of ritual, has not estimated public opinion at its real value. The churchmen, firing the rabble from the place of worship, were but illustrating the prevailing sentiment.

On a recent festive occasion in Constantinople Turks and Armenians were observed embracing each other, a fine exhibition of courage, unless all had been searched for concealed weapons.

MAKING THE BEST OF IT

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

Two boys, with the usual amiability of small boy psychology, were twitting each other about their parentage.

One of the lads had been adopted in infancy and was being made to feel small by the boy who had merely been born into his family in the normal way.

"Huh," sniffed the "real" son, "Your parents don't love you like mine do me. You're just adopted."

The adopted lad thought it over for a moment and then said:

"Pshaw, your parents had to take you in because you come. Mine picked me out of hundreds. They started out loving me. I wonder if yours would have picked you if you'd been in a crowd?"

I don't know the answer; but I do know that the adopted boy had the right slant on life. We adopt things because we love them; that is why it is wrong to taunt foreigners who have adopted America as their country. If they are good citizens the chances are that gratitude will be added to love of their chosen land and her institutions; and when gratitude is added to love you have a powerful combination.

Not long ago I heard a woman say she could never adopt a child unless it belonged to her own family. That meant that she had no restricted her power of loving that it could take in nobody outside her narrow circle. Perhaps it is this attitude that causes so many failures with adopted children and adopted citizens. Too many people, too many countries, adopt to secure service and not to give love.

In my life I have known a splendid family that could and did adopt children generously, wholeheartedly and splendidly. Adopted children came into the family circle and became part of it. The result was beautiful.

The love that went out to them returned many fold to their adopted parents and brothers and sisters. The home environment was excellent and naturally the adopted children grew up absorbing its ideals and standards.

There was no "step-child" attitude in the matter; the adopted children knew that they were loved and provided for and they took on the color of their surroundings like young camellias.

I wonder if our foreign born citizens would not do the same if we gave them just a little of what we demand from them.

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

WHEN TO USE A COMMA

(Additional Suggestions.)

(Find the error in this article)

When you write a series of words or phrases, you should separate the members, including the last two, by commas; as, She bought apples, and grapes; but from the room, down the stairs, and into the kitchen.

Set off parenthetical expressions by means of punctuation. Commas are often used for this purpose; as, I worked hard, therefore, to finish the task; Idle gossip, as you know, can never be honestly realized as harmless; Consequently, there was nothing else left for me to do; There were, for example, only two prepared; In the second place, he was not even present.

Note the following use of the comma: Harry Phillips, your friend, has written me; He has just returned from Chicago, the second-largest city in the United States.

Then note the following examples: His strength having returned, the surgeon decided to operate; He decides to go West, work being reported plentiful in that section of the country.

BROTHERS VALIANT AT THE GLENDALE IS SPECTACULAR

The smash blow from the flailing flukes of a wounded fifty-ton whale in its death struggle came close to crushing several members of the cast of "All the Brothers Were Valiant," the Irvin Willat production for Metro, now presented at the Glendale theater. The episode took place during a recent trip to the Farallone Islands off the California coast. Mr. Willat wanted to show the actual hunting and killing of a whale from small boats, and he succeeded, but almost at the cost of many lives.

This was only one instance where members of the crews that manned the twenty-eight-foot power whale launches risked their lives in order to get the "thrill" registered by the camera for this Metro special production of Ben Ames Williams' powerful sea story in which Lon Chaney, Billie Dove, Malcolm McGregor, Robert McKim and William Mong have leading roles.

U. S. Exhibits Attract Attention in Brazil

By Associated Press] RIO DE JANEIRO, March 12.—Brazil's centennial exposition, wholly unprepared when it was opened September 7, is now in full swing. All the buildings are completed, the exhibits in place and visitors are attending in increasing numbers. By presidential decree the exposition has been extended from March 31 to July 2.

Although the North American pavilion and the North American Industrial Exhibits buildings were not officially opened until December 23, more than three months after the start of the exposition, their exhibits are now among the most attractive of the foreign nations participating. More than 150 North American manufacturers are on exhibit in the industrial building, covering everything from locomotives to pens and pencils.

TEXAS ARE CALLED FOR PICNIC REUNION

All who ever lived in the Lone Star state are called to meet under the auspices of the Texas State society for a great picnic reunion, all day, Saturday, April 21st, 1923, in Sycamore Grove Park. This will celebrate our great San Jacinto Day anniversary.

Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends. There will be county registers and headquarters so one can find the old neighbors, even with thousands present.

You will enjoy the brief program opening about 2:00 o'clock, songs and short talks. Dr. H. S. Adair, president, phone 15646, will preside and have charge of the day. The main purpose will be to have a good time and to let the people do the talking.

Tourists and visitors from the old home are specially invited. Bring your basket well filled. Coffee will be served free to all who buy the silk souvenir badges.

Each one who learns of this is asked to pass the word along. Further information may be had of the president or of C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies, office in the Continental National bank, Main and Ninth streets, phone 10261, where the great Texas state register may be seen.

BIBLE PROPHECIES ARE TOLD BY REV. REASER

That the prophecies of the Bible are the witnesses of Christ to the existence and character of His Father, was asserted by Rev. G. W. Rooser in a discourse at the Seventh Day Adventist tabernacle on Myrtle avenue, Eagle Rock, Sunday evening. Christ is set forth in the scripture as a witness, the speaker said. "No man hath seen God at any time," the Bible tells us; but there was nothing else left for me to do. There were, for example, only two prepared; In the second place, he was not even present.

Note the following use of the comma: Harry Phillips, your friend, has written me; He has just returned from Chicago, the second-largest city in the United States.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

What might have been—Ah yes, I know; Sometimes I think that thus and so Things might have been, but what's the use Of letting sombre fancies loose? Why speak with tears to gather up The wine spilled from the broken cup, What might have been was not for me, What is mine and what may be.

What might have been—and who shall say If I were happier today, Had it all come to pass? Who knows How Chance's fickle current flows? And so somehow it seems to me What might have been was not to be, And in the pattern and design Of life what is was meant for mine.

What might have been—Ah, yes, it seems Life held so fast its hopes and dreams, And what she gave was naught beside What she withheld. And I have cried With bitterness perchance like you, For what chance did or did not do, Nor sought with my high soul to save The gifts and treasures that she gave.

For me, I shall not seek the husk Of things not for me, in the dusk Of tearful dreamings, nor shall cry That this or that chance passed me by. There is a song of birds in air, The sky is blue, the fields are fair, And life holds here outstretched to me What is of mine, and what may be.

SAN FERNANDO FOLK PLAN BIG CARNIVAL

At the meeting of the board of directors of the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement Association held Friday night, various committees were appointed and arrangements discussed for the carnival which is to celebrate the turning on of the monumental lighting system on that thoroughfare. It had been expected that it would be held Saturday evening, April 21, but as it seemed impossible to get the lights ready by that time, it has been postponed until the 28th.

Subscriptions to cover the expense are coming in, the committee in charge having already received $135 in cash, to be spent for

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK—

By E. R. WAITE, Secretary of Shawnee, Oklahoma, Board of Commerce

THAT the building of a city should not be the work of a few men.

THAT the building up of the wealth and the prestige of a city is some job; THAT it should have the united efforts of every citizen to do it.

THAT no matter how busy or successful a man may be, he should love his home city and work for it.

THAT nothing can be expected of narrow-minded, selfish, penny-pinching people, who can see no farther than their own business and their own pocketbooks.

THAT this class must be ignored in your plans for city buildings.

THAT you should not take them into your councils. Nothing can change them.

THAT they are Destroyers, not builders.

THAT these men are not citizens, they simply live in the city.

THAT they will refuse to give anything to a community, which makes their success possible, being content to let the other fellow do it.
